

M'LOUGHLIN WINS AT TENNIS

DEFEATS BEALS WRIGHT IN FOUR SET MATCH.

California by Victory in Final of All Comers' Match to Play for Larned for Championship. Two Speedy for Hamilton—Score 6-4, 4-6, 5-3, 6-3.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 2.—Maurice McLaughlin of San Francisco won his way to the top of the all American list here today and became the challenger of William A. Larned for the national title by defeating champion Beals C. Wright of Boston three sets out of four by the tally of 6-4, 4-6, 5-3, 6-3.

It was a match wherein the Bostonian was virtually played to a standstill through the first set. He seemed outclassed by his speedier opponent. Save in the second set, when McLaughlin attacked his rival at such a whirlwind pace that the former titleholder, battered and buffeted about, had hardly time to recover himself after one savage onslaught before he was again involved in a merciless assault.

At times Wright was fairly played off his feet by the impetuosity of his opponent's campaign. McLaughlin brought into play his smashing, slashing net game to the best possible advantage. It possessed such a compelling power that try as he would, Wright was utterly unable to stand before it. The tremendous force that lay in the Californian's strokes when he played for a hit at the net was best evidenced by the fact that in the course of the engagement he broke the strings of no fewer than five rackets, three of them in quick succession, one after another, in the fourth set, when he was evidently bent upon terminating the battle ere it could be lengthened into another session.

Only in the second set, which Wright won, when the latter had placed a marked curb on his costly propensity to drive out in an effort to skirt the lines too finely did McLaughlin in attempting to steady his own game fall off in energy and power, and the loss of the set taught him a lesson which he was not slow to appreciate. After he paid less attention to playing carefully and resumed his devotion to speed, which carried him up out of a bad 3-1 hole in the third set and enabled him to deuce the session and ultimately to win it after his adversary had 5-3.

Throughout all the match McLaughlin's superiority was most strikingly marked by the extraordinary facility with which he brought off ace after ace by clever placing in the opening set he outplayed his opponent in a ratio of better than four to one. In the second set, which he lost, he saved a total of five more aces than did Wright. The third set gave him a margin of fourteen aces and in the fourth he was ten to the good.

McLaughlin's total of earned points was 64 of these being on the service, to Wright's 29, of which two came with the aid of this wide margin in his favor. With this wide margin in his favor, though they considerably outnumbered his, McLaughlin's errors of stroke, which he paid for heavily against him, did not weigh very heavily against him. Men point a volley of criticism at him for his own service, while it tallied several aces for him, was somewhat unmanageable at times and a propensity with him to stand for calling foul faults on him did not tend to promote his peace of mind.

Wright endeavored bravely to stall off defeat when he found that he was playing into his rival's hands. His drives from deep court often lacked steadiness, though he found lodgment far more often in court than McLaughlin's they were immeasurably less accurate and he was unable to over the net his opponent frequently hit him at a distinct disadvantage and was able to pass him in the final.

Wright's round strokes were much more accurate than those of his opponent, but in the final, the Californian's, whose exhibition in that respect was by no means creditable, but the Bostonian's overcast work was fairly good while McLaughlin's was generally sharp and clean.

It was the Westerner's compelling net game, however, in the final analysis that turned the trick for him. He sought ever to dislodge the Bay State star from a position in midcourt where he could command both sides and thus working him out would win point a volley of criticism at him for his own service, while it tallied several aces for him, was somewhat unmanageable at times and a propensity with him to stand for calling foul faults on him did not tend to promote his peace of mind.

In winning against Wright, McLaughlin bettered his record of three years ago, the first time the Californian came East, and he added to his record by winning the national doubles title, which he held for two years more. In 1905 Wright took the singles title and the following year he went to England on the international tour, but suffered from blood poisoning and was unable to play. In 1907 Wright took all comers, but was defeated by Larned in the challenge match and again in 1910 he came runner up, losing to Bundy.

LAWN TENNIS. •

Play Begins in New Rochelle Annual Tournament.

With a string of seventy-seven crack players in the men's singles the annual tournament of the New Rochelle Tennis Club began yesterday on the clay courts of the club at Quaker Ridge Park. Along with a first and a runner-up prize in the event there is the Quaker Ridge championship cup, which goes to the player winning the first three wins. It is the second year that the club has held the tournament, which was first played in 1909 by R. M. Phillips, who is playing through this time. In the other events usually prosperous draws are promised, especially in the mixed doubles, where Gustave F. Touchard, joint holder of the national doubles championship, has been paired with Miss Holmes. Though the club grounds had been under water for the last week the sun dried them out so well in the forenoon that all but the exhibition courts in front of the clubhouse were in good condition. Among the first to play on the clay courts was that between C. F. Porter and Allen E. Burdard, both of whom are members of the club. Porter, who is chairman of the tournament committee, defaulted, as he could not play and attend to the schedule. The default puts Burdard into the third round, and other players to play the same round were R. C. Black of the New York A. C. and George R. Coughlin, who was opposed by H. H. Wright. The Winger Foot man gained the verdict in straight sets. Coughlin was drawn against H. H. Wright and he did the trick also in straight sets. The summary:

Quaker Ridge Championship Cup, Men's Singles—First round—Colon, Jr., defeated H. H. Wright by default.

Second round—Allen E. Burdard defeated C. F. Porter by default. George R. Coughlin defeated J. H. Walworth, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3. R. C. Black defeated S. Perry Brock, 6-0, 6-2.

MARINE AND FIELD RACES.

Drowning Boy Rescued by Sailer at the Start.

There was considerable excitement during the start of the annual fall regatta of the Marine and Field Club on Gravesend Bay yesterday. Just as the handicap division was coming down on the line a boy of about 11 years, who was swimming off the long pier of the club, cried for help and then sank. As he came to the surface H. Rorer, the paid hand who was hoisting the signals, dived overboard and struck out for the drowning lad.

Rorer reached the boy as the latter was going down for the third time. He managed to grip the boy and after a hard struggle the two reached the club float. In the meantime there was plenty of excitement on the dock. However, the regatta committee, made up of Commodore C. M. Camp, chairman, President Paul H. Towne and H. E. Burrows, did not forget the race. Some of the kites were fired and the signals hoisted on time and the craft got away with the yachtsmen not knowing what was happening at the seaward end of the starting line. Aside from being badly frightened and drenched with water inside of him the lad escaped without injury.

The day was one of the best that the lower bay boats have had this season. A stiff breeze from the southwest gave the fleet plenty of work. Unfortunately the fleet was not particularly large. Several of the craft had gone to Long Island Sound and their absence made one or two of the classes unusually small. Only four of the 12 boats started. They did not make a particularly good start, the grazier in particular being several minutes late. The first leg was a reach on the starboard tack from Bath Beach to Bensonhurst. Then came a stiff beat to Sea Gate and then to Buoy 24, in Ambrose Channel. Here the boats set spinnakers for a long run to Fort Hamilton, where the craft gybed and reached to the finish line. The course was covered twice at the end of the first round the times taken were: Spider, 4:11.20; Alice, 4:11.35; Nova, 4:12; and Gray Jacket, 4:12.22. During the second round Nova managed to slip into second place and finished 32 seconds astern of Spider.

In both actual and corrected time the handicap class was taken by the Joy. The Joy had a runaway match in the S class, due principally to the fact that the Wink broke the jaw of her gaff and was held up for many minutes. The Merry Widow led among the 12 boats, followed by the Meteor and the New York Canoe Club across the finish line.

LITTLE FATHER A SURPRISE.

Wins St. Clair Handicap at Windsor at 13 to 1.

DETROIT, Sept. 2.—A large crowd visited the Windsor track this afternoon and witnessed excellent racing. Seven events furnished plenty of sport and thirty-seven bookmakers were kept busy. The St. Clair handicap, for all ages, at six furlongs, was the star event. After a pretty race Little Father, a 13 to 1 chance, won in a hard drive by a neck with Guy Fisher, second a length before the favorite, Folie Levy.

Edda won the handicap at a mile and a sixteenth in easy fashion, while the odds on choice Naushon was in third position. King Avondale's victory was not profitable for his owner, Hugh Penny, as Homer Selby bid him up $300 after the race.

Trainer Garth and Jockey Williams again proved to be the winning combination in the steeplechase, which was easily won by St. Abe. Dinna Ken, who was coupled in the race with St. Abe, led his usual running out act.

Mix carloads of horses will be shipped from Windsor to Detroit Tuesday and tomorrow. Those in the lot are the horses of R. F. Carman. The summary:

First race—Three-year-olds and geldings, five furlongs—Island Queen, 1 to 10, won; Camella, 10 to 1, second; 3 to 1, third. Folie Levy, 10 to 1, fourth. Captain, 10 to 1, fifth. 10 to 1, sixth. Diamond Buckle, Steam Boat, Turbine, Rod and Gun and Auto Maid also ran.

Second race—Handicap steeplechase, about two miles—St. Abe, 1 to 1, won; Williams, even money; Naushon, 10 to 1, second; Folie Levy, 10 to 1, third. (Pending; 9 to 2, second; Be Thankful, 10 to 1, third; 40 to 1, third. Time, 4:33. Price also ran.)
